Bus changes set to hit villages

MAJOR changes are being made to bus services which could leave many villagers relying on transport that must be booked a week in advance.

The changes come into effect at the end of the month and will mean more direct services between towns, but introduce Demand Responsive Transport between Haverhill, Newmarket and Bury St Edmunds.

Local councils were told in March by Suffolk County Council's senior network planner, Andrew Gee, that a large number of sponsored bus services would be reaching their five year anniversary at the end of August.

The services between Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds will be revised, with a new timetable, providing additional buses earlier in the morning and later in the day. More buses will serve Bury St Edmunds railway station and most will additionally serve West Suffolk Hospital. Many journeys will be more direct, following the A143 for much of the journey.

Some villages will no longer be served by these routes, including Barnardiston, Brockley Green, Hundon, Stradishall, Denston, Ashfield Green and Depden Green. An existing service between Haverhill and Newmarket, will be withdrawn, although the villages of Moulton, Gazeley and Dalham will continue to be served by other routes.

A new service will connect Haverhill, Clare and Wickhambrook, also serving Barnardiston, Hundon and Stradishall, providing connections on certain journeys for onward travel to Bury St Edmunds and with 'Suffolk Links' for travel towards Newmarket and to other villages within the area.

The new 'Suffolk Links' service covers a 12-hour period, between 7am to 7pm on Mondays to Saturdays, and prices will be similar to bus fares. Concessionary passes and 'Explore' cards for younger people will be valid, just as they would on a normal bus route, and expanding on the present journey and destination possibilities. The service needs to be requested in advance, currently between seven days and up to 5pm the day before. It is planned to reduce this to two hours minimum notice.

Communities covered include Hargrave, Ousden, Depden, Ashfield Green, Lidgate, Cowlinge, Wickhambrook, Denston, Stradishall, Barnardiston, Withersfield, the Wrattings, Thurlows and Bradleys.

Gordon Mussett, Haverhill town clerk, said: "We were consulted (as were the villages) on the principle, and agreed, as it means faster trips to Bury. This is the first time we've seen the detail, which in some places (the 236 on a Saturday has a 50 minute wait in Clare on a journey from Sudbury to Haverhill, for example) seems odd."

'Pirates' are little treasures

TINY pirates went on a hunt for buried treasure and managed to raise a bumper sum for charity at the same time.

A group of 55 youngsters at the Tiny Toes nursery in Homefield Road, Haverhill, completed a sponsored toddle in aid of Barnardo's and raised £392.

Organiser Danielle Johnson said the children, aged from three months to five years, took part in the toddle in the field next to the nursery. They followed clues to find the treasure trove, where they received a medal and a certificate for taking part.

Danielle said: "They all did really well and we had a party for them when they got back to the nursery. We were surprised at how much sponsor money they had, they all did really well."

■ The Haverhill Weekly News is backing another 50 youngsters in a sponsored toddle at the East Town Park in Haverhill on Sunday at 10.30am. Louise Cohen, media consultant for the paper, has organised the event.

Soul mates unite to support cancer patient

FRIENDS of a cancer patient used their mutual love of soul music to raise the £500 needed for a medical procedure.

A group of friends of soul music fan Debby Anzalone, from Stoke by Nayland, organised a 12-hour family fun day at the Woodlands Hotel in Haverhill, with many top soul acts and DJs performing free of charge. They also organised plenty of entertainment for the children and a balloon release to remember loved ones.

Lilly Vasquez, one of the organisers, said the event was a great success and the hotel donated the last £75 to make up their target sum.

The fun day was one of a series of fundraising events held to pay for a full body CT scan to put Debby's mind at rest following cancer treatment.

Debby, who has two young children, was diagnosed with breast cancer last October and has had six chemotherapy sessions, followed by a full mastectomy and 15 rounds of radiotherapy. Cash raised will go towards her scan, with the remainder going to cancer charities.

Query on housing for research park

PRESSURE is mounting on a council to spell out exact details of the number of homes it would be prepared to allow in a new science park scheme at Hanchett End.

Following last week's publication of a report into the financial viability of Hanchett Research Park, a number of leading businesses have raised concerns over St Edmundsbury Borough Council's draft concept statement for the land.

The independent report, commissioned by Choose Suffolk, backs calls made by the park's developers for council planners to be more specific regarding areas of "higher value" uses.

Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, Suffolk Chamber of Commerce and Haverhill Enterprise have raised doubts over the viability of developing the site in the form set out by the council.

In a letter sent to council officers, Haverhill Enterprise said: "We support the view that the concept statement should be changed to allow approximately one-third of the site to be developed for higher value, non-research park uses, in order to make the development of the whole site viable."

BY JO DEEKS

Nic Rumsey, director of Carisbrooke Investments, which is behind the park scheme, said: "We are extremely pleased that the views that we have presented over the current draft concept statement have been recognised and supported by those from the local business community."

"We are also heartened by the support that has been received for our vision from those within the education sector."

"I am grateful to those who have taken the time to make their views known on this key site which, if moved forward appropriately, could deliver enormous benefit to the town."

University Campus Suffolk and West

Suffolk College have both backed the vision of the Hanchett Research Park, which would be built on a 30-acre site at the entrance to Haverhill, from the Cambridge direction.

Martyn Wagner, college vice principal said: "It is an exciting development for Haverhill, both in terms of broadening and increasing employment opportunities as well as bringing additional commerce for existing local businesses."

"It will be very challenging to attract public sector finance in the current climate, so creative solutions will need to be found and possibly some flexibility exercised in order to realise this as part of the vision for Haverhill."

"Nic is intent on making the project work for Haverhill and deserves wholehearted support from all with an interest in the town's prosperity."

The consultation on the draft concept statement closed last week.

New football centre ready for kick off

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

KEYS have been handed over to a new £2 million community football centre.

New Croft at Chalkstone Way, Haverhill, was built as a new home for Haverhill Rovers.

Funded by £1.4 million from St Edmundsbury Borough Council and £550,000 from the Football Foundation and Football Stadia Improvement Fund, the centre also has facilities for the whole community to use.

The centre, named after Rovers' former ground, Hamlet Croft, will run a development programme for seniors, juniors, and women's and girls' football in the area.

A new Haverhill Community Sports Association has been set up to run the centre and its chairman, Tom Harrison, was handed the keys at a ceremony on Monday by Cllr Lynsey Alexander, culture and sport cabinet member for the borough council.

As well as football, New Croft has social facilities for community use and hire for events like birthdays, receptions, functions and meetings.

Cllr Alexander said: "The council made a commitment to provide Haverhill with the leisure opportunities it lacked.

"We have delivered the cinema and major improvements to the leisure centre, but this community project has been the longest in the making and I hope, in its legacy.

"We look forward to seeing it used by many new players and wish the facility a healthy and successful future."

Mr Harrison said: "We are delighted to be taking over this magnificent new facility on behalf of the people of Haverhill.

"It has come about as the result of many years hard work by those involved in providing football for the town and the generous funding made available by St Edmundsbury Borough Council and the Football Association.

"We now have a community football facility that is second to none in Suffolk and I hope to see members of the public, including footballers of all ages and their supporters, at the opening match on Saturday."

The official opening will be held at 2.30pm on Saturday before Haverhill Rovers play their first league match of the season against Walsham-le-Willows, the last team to play against them at Hamlet Croft.

Pensioners beaten by masked gang

A GREAT-GRANDMOTHER fears balaclava-clad raiders, who beat her and her husband in their home, will kill someone unless they are caught.

Emma Parker, 62, and her husband Eli, 66, were attacked as they sat watching television after five men burst into their home and demanded cash. They got away with cash, jewellery, passports, birth certificates and other documents.

The attack was witnessed by the couple's teenage grandson Levi at around 9.40pm last Tuesday.

Mr Parker was taken to Colchester Hospital after the raid on the couple's bungalow at Chapel Road, Ridgewell, and his wife believes he was lucky to keep his eyesight. He was struck between the eyes with a piece of wood which had a nail in it.

Mrs Parker said: "He is still bruised and battered, but he is better than he was. They hit us both with my laptop.

"He was within a fraction of being blinded. I just don't know what the world is coming to. If they had not found anything they would have gone on hitting us. You just don't know what they are going to do to the next people, they have got to be caught or they could kill someone."

Essex police dog handlers searched the area and believe the men may have escaped in a car parked at nearby Meeting Lane.

Detectives are asking anyone in the Ridgewell area who saw any suspicious activity between 9 and 10pm that night to contact them on 0300 333 4444 or ring Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Tenant seeks legal advice over new crack house closure order

A CRACK HOUSE closure order has been imposed on a house in Haverhill with a hearing due on Tuesday to decide if it should be made permanent.

Police went to the house at 15 Boxford Court, Haverhill, last Wednesday to enforce a temporary closure order and tenant Theresa Cassar appeared before Bury St Edmunds magistrates last Friday.

She asked them to adjourn consideration of the closure order so that she could seek legal advice.

Miss Cassar said she had not been allowed back into the property to see papers relating to the order until last Thursday and would now meet her solicitor.

On Tuesday, Karly McGuire, for Suffolk police, agreed to a further week's adjournment and magistrates agreed to extend the closure order until a full, contested hearing could take place.

Haverhill police have recently appealed to the public for help in tackling drug dealing in the town, and asked for more details on a number of anonymous tip-off letters. It is not known if these relate specifically to the premises where the closure order was imposed.

Closure notice: 15 Boxford Court, Haverhill.

Crack house closure orders are part of the Anti-Social Behaviour Act and do not rely on drugs being found in a house, only evidence that drug taking has been going on there. The closure order means the house is sealed off and no-one is allowed inside it.

Last year three crack house closure orders were made in Haverhill and a gang supplying drugs across East Anglia were jailed.

Inspector Andrew Mason, sector commander for Haverhill at the time, said he felt this was not an indication of a serious drug problem in the town, more of success in tackling the problem.

Ladies team up for the big walk

WOMEN'S Institute members put their best food forward as part of a national event to help them become more active.

A group of 12 members of Haverhill WI took a leisurely walk around the East Town Park and met up with eight members of Sturmer WI who were doing the same thing.

The ladies were rewarded at the park's visitor centre with either an ice cream or a cup of tea.

Sheila Peter, president of Haverhill WI, said a WI Triathlon had been launched nationally, encouraging members to walk 50 miles, swim 12 miles or cycle five miles over a six-month period between April and September.

She said: "The idea is that you do it over a period of time and get everyone in the institute involved, with a competition for the highest percentage of member involvement. A lot of people say they don't walk, but they do walk in to the town and back, which all adds up. I have done my 50 miles already."

The Women's Institute meets at the Chalkstone Community Centre on the second Tuesday of the month at 10am and new members are always welcome.

Police pledge after increase in drink driving

POLICE have pledged to get tough on drink drivers after latest statistics showed a slight increase in offences.

BY JO DEEKS

conducted on those aged 25 years and under – 24 were positive, the equivalent of 12 per cent. A total of 512 were conducted on those over 25 – 37 were positive (7.2 per cent).

Furthermore, 266 tests were routine breath tests conducted on each party involved in road traffic collisions, with 17 drivers over the limit (6.4 per cent).

Chief Inspector Adrian Dawson said: "It may only be a small increase in relation to last year but it is an increase nonetheless and it is always disappointing to see. Nearly nine per cent of people we have stopped have failed to act with consideration or acknowledge the greatly increased risks they face by drink driving."

"Those offending need to realise that they not just putting themselves at risk but other innocent road users as well. This is a very serious issue and can have severe consequences."

"Anybody convicted of drink driving will have a criminal record and could receive a prison sentence of up to 10 years."

"They could be banned from driving, fined heavily and even lose their jobs, not to mention the possible loss of life."

"We want everyone to know that Suffolk Police will not tolerate drink or drug driving and we will continue to carry out checks throughout the year."

Anyone who suspects someone of drink driving is asked to report them immediately to the police or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

NEW DATING SERVICE FOR CAMBRIDGE!

How distance made the heart grow stronger

A COUPLE who spent less than a week of married life together before he was sent overseas for more than two years have celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary.

Betty and Ken Jennings met at a dance at Sawston College and married at Whittleford church on August 5, 60 years ago. They spent a brief honeymoon in Folkestone, but then Ken was recalled into navy service and spent the next two-and-a-half years in Korea and then Malaysia, before returning home.

Mrs Jennings said: "There was no ship to shore radio or anything like that in those days, all we had was letters. We had to number them because often you would get two or three at once. I was 19 and he was 21 and we wrote to each other regularly.

"When he came out of the forces he got a job with Pye as an electrician and we moved to Haverhill, swapping houses with someone in Western Avenue. We had three daughters and we have had a very good life together. Our daughter Ann lives in America and she is coming home for the first time in 26 years for our anniversary. We are having a big party at the arts centre on Saturday."

Mrs Jennings, 79, has been involved in many groups and last year received the freedom of the town, being nominated after more than 50 years with the Townswomen's Guild. She worked as school secretary at Place Farm Primary School for 30 years and served as a school governor for 15 years. Both she and her husband are members of St Mary's Church and the U3A, where they belong to the Cheerups entertainment troupe.

Mr Jennings, 81, was a former Group Scout leader for 1st Haverhill and is chairman of the Ely Korean Veterans Association. The couple, who live at Abbotts Road, Haverhill, have four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. They have asked friends and family to make donations to be divided between Papworth Hospital and St Nicholas Hospice, instead of giving them presents.

'Friday Market needs to move'

A STRUGGLING Friday market will not be privatised but needs to be moved to keep it viable.

These were the results of a review carried out by the National Association of British Market Authorities on the market in Haverhill.

The town's Saturday market has flourished since it was moved from the Market Square into the High Street, but stalls have dwindled on the Friday market, with traders calling for it to be moved.

Suffolk County Council has applied for variations to traffic orders banning traffic from the top of the High Street, so that the market can be moved, and is trying to overcome objections raised so that the change can go ahead.

In a report to St Edmundsbury Borough Council, market specialists from the NABMA highlighted loyal customers, affordable rents, good variety and efficient management among the strengths of the Haverhill market.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

The review also highlighted areas where improvements could be made, but said that the council was capable of making any necessary changes, so seeking an external partner, or privatising the market, was not necessary.

It confirmed that the Friday market needed to be relocated to High Street and suggested the Saturday stall layout needed to be reviewed to make it easier to access.

Closer working relationships with Haverhill Town Council would also help to integrate the market with its specialist markets.

Various other recommendations covered both Friday and Saturday markets, such as better publicity and communications, a customer charter, support for new businesses starting up on the markets, and a review of waste management to reduce costs and increase recycling.

Cllr Sara Mildmay-White, cabinet member responsible for the borough's markets, said: "This was an excellent review which gives us a good foundation on which to work in partnership with the traders, to make sure the market is fit for the future."

"The Saturday market benefits traders throughout the town centre by pulling in customers, and the review confirms the need to move the Friday market.

"We need to ensure our markets thrive not just now but for many years to come so our children and generations beyond them can continue to enjoy its attractions and benefits.

"I am looking forward to working with traders to secure Haverhill market's future."

Police need help with tyre slashers

AFTER a spate of tyre-slashing incidents, police are asking the public to tell them about people acting suspiciously near vehicles.

One vehicle in Layer Road, Haverhill, had all four tyres slashed on July 29 and another in Gloucester Road had two tyres slashed on July 30.

Pc Michael Potter, of Haverhill police, said if any members of the public saw people loitering around cars or squatting down next to them, they should contact the police immediately.

Anyone who has any information about damage to the tyres should call (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Appeal over wind turbine application

AN APPEAL has been lodged against the refusal by St Edmundsbury Borough Council for a wind turbine at a cottage in a small hamlet.

Mrs J Forsey had applied to put up the wind turbine at Rose Cottage, Brockley Green, Hunden.

News staff put best feet forward

TWO members of the Weekly News advertising staff completed the Race for Life event at Bury St Edmunds. Louise Cohen and Melissa Adam raised £152 in sponsorship for Cancer Research UK.

Vandals destroy new artwork

PUPILS who created artwork in an underpass to leave a permanent reminder of their school when it closes next year have had their work ruined by vandals.

The colourful artwork by pupils from Parkway Middle School was put up in the underpass at Park Road as part of a project supported by local Safer Neighbourhood officer Pc Will Wright and Suffolk County Council.

The aim was to brighten up the appearance of the underpass for the local community.

But at some point between July 19 and 31, grey spray paint was used to scrawl obscene words and phrases over the top of the artwork.

Haverhill police are hoping witnesses can help them catch those responsible.

Anyone with information can call Pc Will Wright on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Don't worry about Airbus

Sir, I noted your headline on July 22 regarding the possible introduction of the A380 Airbus to the skies around Stansted Airport and wish to allay people's fears.

I attended the recent Farnborough Airshow and can confirm that these superjumbos are incredibly quiet, far quieter in fact than the current B-737s operated by easyjet and Ryanair. Aircraft engine technology has made huge advances in recent years so people need not be alarmed. Furthermore, the fact that these aircraft can carry many more people than even the B-747s means fewer air movements so residents and the environment benefits.

Wood chipper stolen

THIEVES broke into a depot and stole a wood chipper which would have taken three or four people to move. The theft happened at Homefield Road, Haverhill, between 10am on Sunday, August 1 and 6am on Monday. Offenders broke into the depot by damaging a fence and broke into a container by cutting a lock, but nothing was stolen. Windows were smashed in two vehicles at the depot and they were moved within the site. A Timberwolf wood chipper was stolen.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to PC Sarah Reavill at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Go hunting and fishing

PARK rangers will be leading children on a Great Big Bug Hunt and showing them how to fish at two summer sessions. On Thursday, from 2pm-4pm, the hunt will be on for the most weird and wonderful creepy-crawly in Haverhill's East Town Park. The event is suitable for children aged from five to 11 years, but under eights must be accompanied by an adult. Wear old clothes and the cost is £1. On Thursday, August 19, a chance to learn to fish will be on offer at the new pond on Castle Playing Fields, with hints on how to catch more fish for seven to 14-year-olds. Youngsters should bring their own tackle, but bait will be provided. Booking is essential for both events on (01440) 710745.

Curry with 'chips' to help hospice funds

CURRY and 'chips' will be on the menu at a casino night which will be raising money for a hospice.

The Best of Haverhill group, in association with accountants Paul Donno, will be hosting a charity casino evening on Wednesday, August 18 at the Purple Mango Indian Restaurant, Sturmer Road, New England, starting at 7pm.

The event is in support of St Nicholas Hospice Care and is part of the Towergate Accumulator Challenge in which Paul Donno is taking part.

It involves about 40 other West Suffolk companies which have been set a challenge to see who could raise the most money from a £50 stake by September.

The company has committed to raising £10,000 during the course of the year for the hospice and its fundraising campaign is in memory of Denise Sheridan of Clare Physiotherapy, a late client, who was cared for by the hospice during her battle against cancer.

Tickets for the event are £20 and include a two-course Indian buffet and £5 worth of chips to play at the tables.

The dress code is black tie/cocktail dresses and there will be a £50 cash prize for the person with the highest amount of winnings on the evening.

Elaine Carr, owner of The Best of Haverhill, said: "We decided not to hold our usual networking event in August due to the holiday season.

"With people and staff perhaps on holiday it is often a difficult time to get away from the business during the working day.

"It seemed like a good idea to help Paul Donno and Co Ltd in their fundraising efforts and to work with them on the charity casino evening.

"This will be an entertaining event and a great opportunity to get dressed up and have some fun."

There will be a raffle on the evening and donations of prizes would be gratefully received.

Tickets for the event are available by calling Louise Craig on (01787) 281688 or email Louise@pauldonno.co.uk

Roaring success: youngsters take part in the Circus Moves dance workshop at Haverhill Arts Centre in Haverhill.
Picture: Keith Jones 667267.

Youngsters in the summer groove

YOUNGSTERS had the chance to bring the circus to life through dance at a two-day workshop.

Young dance enthusiasts aged 6 to 9 attended Circus Moves, the first of two Dance East workshops at Haverhill Arts Centre, last Thursday and Friday.

Participants created their own dance routines, along with costumes and props, to produce a piece to perform for family and friends.

The second workshop, which ran earlier this week, took its inspiration from the King of Pop. Ten to 14 year olds learnt some of Michael Jackson's amazing dance routines and showed off their newly-acquired skills in a short performance.

For more information about summer activities in Haverhill pick up a programme at the arts centre on call (01440) 714140.

New shelters wait on final cost sign off

A PENSIONER is continuing her campaign to replace unpopular bus shelters.

Jean Telford says she will enlist the help of new MP Matthew Hancock to ensure Suffolk County Council sticks to its promise to revamp the newly-renovated Haverhill bus station.

Bus users slated last year's £300,000 redesign, complaining the new shelters were too small to accommodate wheelchairs and pushchairs. They were also too close to the kerb to allow passengers to get on and off easily.

Mrs Telford, of Parsonage Gardens, Haverhill, who uses a mobility scooter, was one of more than 2,200 people who signed a petition calling for the controversial shelters to be replaced.

In February, the county council agreed to install bigger shelters and move them further away from the kerb. Haverhill Town Council members were told that the new sheltered had been ordered in March and would be installed a month later.

In a letter to Mr Hancock, Mrs Telford

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

said: "I have complained and campaigned about the new bus station and was told on February 26 that it would be changed, but since then nothing has happened.

"It was very badly designed and totally inadequate for our needs and the purpose it was built for, and for over £300,000 it was a sheer waste of public money.

"Why can't the councils involve the public in their designs, that way perhaps they would not waste so much money."

A spokesman for the county council said preparation work had been done for the latest £60,000 re-design, but it could not go ahead until funding was approved.

He said the funding would be prioritised, along with other schemes, with all council spending currently being reviewed in the light of current financial cuts.

Rider injured as motorcycles collide

A MOTORCYCLIST was seriously injured in a collision at a roundabout.

Looking for people who make a real difference

THE search has started to find those outstanding people who merit special recognition in our sister paper's Cambridge News Community Awards.

Readers are being asked to nominate inspiring individuals and groups who do sterling work for the community, often in difficult circumstances.

Each year a host of worthy winners come to light, such as David Poskitt, who jointly scooped the Liam Fairhurst Award for the most courageous child in 2009.

David, now 14, has battled cancer and lost part of his left leg but has gone from strength to strength and tirelessly raises money for the charities that support him.

The youngster, from Great Shelford, has raised about £11,000 for Cliv Sargent and Cyclists Fighting Cancer.

The category was introduced to commemorate brave Liam Fairhurst, who had lost his four-year fight with cancer just a few months previously.

BY CHRIS HAVERGAL

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

David's mum Jacky says that, although he has now gone on to win other prizes too, the Cambridge News Community Award has a special place in his heart.

She said: "It is probably the one that he was really surprised about and it meant a lot to him. The fact it was named after Liam Fairhurst meant a lot."

"He was not feeling particularly well at the time but the award really picked him up – he couldn't believe it."

David was delighted to receive an Apple laptop from the Marshall Group, which sponsored the category. He now uses it all the time for his homework ahead of the start of his GCSE courses in September.

Jacky says David has been cycling, canoeing and sailing since he won the award, alongside his charity work.

She said: "It's really nice to have a good story sometimes, because Big surprise: winning the Liam Fairhurst award meant a lot to cancer battler David Poskitt, now 14.

Picture: Keith Heppell 667031

cancer can be depressing and a lot of people don't get through it.

"David wants to give something back."

It is stories like this that our sister paper is looking for ahead of its glittering presentation evening which will be held in the autumn, supported by leading businesses and organisations.

Carers, emergency service workers, young achievers and good neighbours will be among those honoured.

At the ceremony, money will be distributed to deserving local projects as well as recognising the outstanding contributions made by individuals in the region.

There are eight individual awards and four group categories, the details of which can be found below.

Paul Brackley, the editor of the Cambridge News, said: "Stories like David's demonstrate why we believe the Community Awards are so important."

"Each year, the awards recognise and honour some remarkable people in our community."

"If you know somebody whose efforts are worthy of recognition, please nominate them today."

Nominations for all 12 categories are invited using the form on this page.

The form will also be available online at www.cambridge-news.co.uk

Individual awards and categories

INDIVIDUAL AWARDS

Unsung Hero:
 sponsor – Stagecoach

This award is designed to pay tribute to inspirational individuals who have gone that extra mile to help their community.

Carer of the Year:
 sponsorship available

Scores of people in the region carry out selfless work every day, taking on the responsibility of caring for others, whether it be a sick child, an elderly relative, people with disabilities or others who need help. This award aims to honour such caring people.

The Liam Fairhurst Most Courageous Child Award: sponsor – Cambridge United

This category is named in honour of youngster Liam Fairhurst who raised hundreds of thousands of pounds for Cliv Sargent before losing his fight against cancer in 2009.

Good Neighbour:
 sponsorship available

This award recognises neighbours with hearts of gold who put the needs of others before themselves. It is designed to reward the kind-hearted person who works tirelessly behind the scenes to look after the people around them.

Emergency services:
 sponsor – Iliffe Print

Our emergency services work day and night, 365 days a year, to make sure we are all safe and well. Do you know a member of this group who has shown outstanding bravery, dedication or gone beyond their duty to help our community?

Lifetime Achievement:
 sponsor – Cambridge Building Society

A very special award designed to honour someone who has made a real difference to their community over many years.

School Worker:
 sponsor – Spark Magazine

This award is designed to recognise people in the education sector at any level. Whether it is a cheerful caretaker, a brilliant teacher or a dinner lady who goes the extra mile... please nominate your favourite.

Young Achiever:
 sponsor – Anglia Ruskin University

Young people often get a bad press – but not in the Community Awards. We want to hear about youngsters under the age of 21 who have made an excellent contribution to their communities in all sorts of ways.

GROUP AWARDS

Sponsors: Cambridge City Council and South Cambridgeshire District Council

Age Support:

This section is for groups that help elderly people to enjoy an enhanced lifestyle, greater security and to lead more rewarding and active lives.

Children's Support:

This category provides funding for schemes that help children, including playschemes, nurseries and uniformed organisations.

Community Support:

This category is open to any project which helps our local communities and improves the lives of those who live in them.

Special Needs:

A section aimed at groups who help people with special needs to live life to the full.

Awards honour for swimmers

A GROUP of disabled swimmers have received awards for their achievements in the water.

The 14 swimmers are all regulars at disability charity Optua's Big Splash sessions which run every Tuesday morning at Haverhill Leisure Centre, and some are pictured with their awards.

They all received Alpha Steps or Adult

Skill and Stamina awards, which are recognised by the Amateur Swimming Association and reflect the improvement they have made through the sessions.

The sessions give people with disabilities the chance to swim or learn to swim at an accessible swimming pool, supported by staff and volunteers.

For more information call Louise Pennell on (01473) 836770.

Academy bid school in shares proposal

STAFF, parents and pupils could get the chance to buy shares in their school if ambitious plans by an outstanding school to create a new academy go ahead.

The idea is part of a plan to increase the stake-holding of those involved with the school, not just by removing local authority control, but by devolving power to give teachers, parents and students a greater say in running their school.

Howard Lay, head of Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College in Haverhill – one of the top performing 2,000 schools in Britain – said he was confident the change could go ahead as early as this October, provided the financial package offered by the government was acceptable and parents were in favour. Mr Lay said: "One of our main reasons for wanting to become an academy is that we have been subjected to constant re-organisation over the past two to three years and we want it to stop. We need to have some stability and certainty in the future, so that we can plan how best to take the school forward.

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"Another reason is that we want to set up a trust that will enable us to develop the Samuel Ward brand in other schools across Suffolk, Norfolk and Essex. I have spent two terms at an academy in Norwich and a term in Lowestoft. We have developed a nucleus of advanced teachers and we want them to be able to support schools that need help.

"Although we are a social enterprise, not a business, I would like to see people hold shares in the school, not just like John Lewis, but something similar. The reason we have been so successful is because the staff are so good and want to involve them more.

"If a free school opens in Clare it will be an academy and if another one opens in Stoke by Nayland there will be six schools competing for the same number of pupils that go to four schools at present. The government policy is to have surplus places so that parents have greater choice and that will gradually dictate which schools win out and which don't."

FOOTBALL CLUB

Rovers set to play at New Croft stadium

Haverhill Rovers Football Club: Club's 22 teams will be delighted to play on relaid pitches.

THE Haverhill Rovers Football Club is looking forward to the opening of its newly-built football stadium in Hamlet Croft.

The £2 million state-of-the-art community football stadium includes a new kitchen, new changing facilities and new lighting, and means the club can offer all its players the best facilities in the area. This extends to other local community groups and individuals too.

The club also has two new, relaid pitches and a grant from the local council enabled them to install a water well to help with watering the pitches.

With as many as 22 teams, the Haverhill Rovers Football Club offers the football experience to anyone interested in the sport. The new stadium can also be hired out for functions.

Says Tom Harrison, chairman of the Haverhill community sports association: "We are delighted to be taking over this magnificent new facility on behalf of the people of Haverhill. It has come about as the result of many years' hard work by those involved in providing football for the town and the generous funding made available by St Edmundsbury Borough Council and the Football Association."

"We now have a community football facility that is second to none in Suffolk and I hope to see as many

'The day I heard my little sister had been murdered'

Be brave: no matter what life throws at you, you can get through it, says Suzanne Hurst, who finally found happiness with her family.

Picture: Warren Gunn 658296

PULLING her little daughter onto her lap for a cuddle, Suzanne Hurst can't help smiling.

She and Esme, 2, have just finished baking a chocolate cake together; it's clear Suzanne loves being a mum.

"I am the happiest I've ever been," admits the mother-of-three, stroking her daughter's bright blonde hair. "For the first time in a long time, I feel positive about the future. I feel like I've got my passion back; I've got myself back, in fact..."

Sitting on a nearby bookshelf, in a jewelled frame, is a photograph of two smiley young women, arms wrapped tightly round each other. The picture, of Suzanne and her much-loved younger sister, Helen, tells a story: it's the story of Suzanne's tragic past – and her hard-won battle back to happiness.

The girls had a troubled childhood: at 12, Suzanne succumbed to severe depression; by the age of 20, Helen's body was already heavily scarred from self-harm.

Both girls set out to create themselves a happier future. But then, on a night out with friends, Helen was attacked on the streets of Sheffield: aged just 23, she was stabbed to death by a total stranger. Her killer, 20-year-old Louise Giles, hit headlines for smuggling love notes to Soham murderer Ian Huntley in prison; jailed for life, she later committed suicide, hanging herself in HMP Durham.

"I look back on it all now, six years on, and think 'How on earth did I get through that?'," admits Suzanne. "Despite her problems, Helen was a free-spirit, the life and soul of the party."

"She was the friendliest person you could wish to meet, she'd speak to anybody; it didn't matter whether you were the Prime Minister or a cleaner, she'd treat everyone the same."

"A few months ago, I was feeling very low. It took me a while to realise it, but what I was feeling was grief: I was grieving for the little sister I'd lost."

Suzanne says Helen's troubles, and her own, date right back to early childhood. "Looking back, I can see that I became totally and utterly depressed," she explains. "I couldn't stop crying, I was convinced all my friends had fallen out with me, I didn't eat, I didn't want to get out of bed. I was 12..."

"My saviour was a school teacher who got me an interview for an art and design course at college. I don't know how I would have ended up otherwise." A talented artist, Suzanne, who grew up in South Yorkshire, went on to do a degree at Huddersfield uni.

It was while at university that Suzanne met James, now her husband. She went on to work as a textile designer – her dream job. Everything seemed to be falling into place. When Suzanne was heavily pregnant with their eldest son, Harry, now 9, James' career brought the couple south to Cambridge.

Harry's birth was both long and traumatic. When he finally arrived, after two days of labour, he was diagnosed with a dangerous infection and instantly whisked away for treatment.

"I didn't get to see him; consequently I didn't bond with him at all. I didn't feel like he was mine," recounts Suzanne. "When I think back to that time it makes me feel really, really sad."

"I developed very bad post-natal depression. The overwhelming sensation was of complete loneliness: I could have been in a room full of 100 people who loved me and still felt the loneliest person in the world."

Seeking treatment, Suzanne says it took her the best part of two years to recover. In the midst of her illness, around Harry's first birthday, she went home to Sheffield to see her family. While she was there, Suzanne heard Helen crying in her room, went to comfort her – and caught her self-harming.

Helen's arms and torso were livid with scars, which showed she'd been cutting herself for some time, so Suzanne took her sister, who she believes was bipolar, to the doctor.

Best friends: Suzanne on her wedding day with Helen as a bridesmaid at her side; below, the two sisters together. CP

"They wouldn't give her anti-depressants because she'd had them many times before and failed to take them regularly. And they didn't want to refer her to a psychologist because, being so young, they didn't want her to have a history of mental illness on her records; they said it might affect her in the future."

Suzanne says Helen kept her distress well hidden from the rest of the world. "She'd got herself into masses of debt, about £15,000, which is a lot for someone who lived at home, had a job and had no overheads," she continues. "Helen just couldn't keep control of her life. But she was hugely sociable, loved her friends, loved her football. She worked at a football centre, actually; she was out with some of her colleagues the night she died."

After recovering from post-natal depression, Suzanne admits it was a big decision to try for another baby. But, keen to give Harry a little brother or sister, she and James went ahead. "When Helen died I was 36 weeks pregnant with Archie; she was buried on a Friday and he was born the Sunday after," adds Suzanne. "In a way, having him really helped me cope: when you have a new baby, it's all-consuming. But that also meant I didn't really grieve."

Suzanne has pieced together the events of Helen's last night. Out on the town with friends, she was apparently caught up in an argument in a nightclub. Asked to leave by staff, a whole group of girls piled out onto the pavement. By sheer chance, Louise Giles was walking by; armed with a knife, hidden in her handbag, she randomly turned on Helen.

"Louise Giles had threatened to stab her boyfriend earlier that evening," recounts Suzanne. "Helen was basically in the wrong place at the wrong time. Louise got her on the ground and stabbed her seven times; Helen was pleading for her life – I only learned that at the trial. She was calling out 'Somebody help me'."

"I think that was the hardest part of the trial, hearing that she'd begged for her life. That and seeing the knife in a little plastic box."

On that night, in the July of 2004, Suzanne's parents happened to be visiting her in Cambridge. "I took the call at 1am to say she'd been stabbed, then the call to say she'd died," recounts Suzanne, "so I had to tell my parents. My dad went white and started screaming; my mum was quite quiet, went outside for a cigarette..."

"I was the one who identified Helen. And then I went to see her in the chapel of rest, to say goodbye. That's when I realised she really had gone, that what I was looking at was just her body, and Helen was somewhere else."

Suzanne says she chose to talk about her experiences for several reasons. "Because I live in Cambridge, where nobody knew Helen, she's never spoken about; not talking about her and the way she died makes it feel like a nasty secret, to be honest, which is a horrible thing," she explains. "So I wanted to talk about her. And I also wanted to raise the issue of knife crime: when you take a knife out with you, you take away your choices; if you get into a fight you're not just going to hit someone, you're going to reach for your weapon and cause them serious harm."

Suzanne says she developed mixed feelings about her sister's killer. Louise Giles pleaded diminished responsibility; she had a history of mental illness and claimed to be suffering a schizophrenic attack when she stabbed Helen – an argument dismissed by the court.

But evidence also showed that Louise had pleaded to be admitted to hospital prior to the murder; in fact, she'd held a pair of social workers at knife-point because they refused to hospitalise her. "The way I see it, the system failed her," adds Suzanne.

Bonding instantly with both Archie, 5, and little Esme, Suzanne says post-natal depression is a distant memory. But, after Esme's birth, she says her mood again started to spiral; after receiving 'amazing' counselling – she realised she was suffering from belated grief.

Prescribed Cognitive Behavioural Therapy, Suzanne has used a programme of practical techniques to tackle her dark moods. She says society still treats mental illness as a taboo – an attitude she is keen to see change. "The worst thing you can do if you're feeling depressed is to keep it to yourself," she adds. "There is a lot of support out there – you just have to find it."

Now looking to the future (she's back at work and feeling creative again, making her own line of textiles for sale, from knitted berets to crocheted corsages), Suzanne says she's feeling positive.

"I am proof that, no matter what life throws at you, you can get through it," she adds. "You have to be brave and I'm not saying it's easy – but you can get there."

Pagers for patients

A NEW system to help patients waiting for their appointments has been introduced at a hospital. A pager system is available for patients at West Suffolk Hospital who are attending outpatient clinics and face unavoidable delays. They can now use the hospital café, go for a walk in the grounds or on neighbouring Hardwick Heath, knowing that staff will alert them when necessary. A total of 15 pagers, chargers and a transmitter have been purchased for use in the outpatients department with £1,700 in funding from charity money raised during the hospital ball. The idea for the pagers came from staff suggestions and the scheme may be extended.

Four tyres slashed

ALL four tyres on a silver Vauxhall Vectra were slashed in a parking area in Haverhill. The damage happened at Layer Road, between 10pm on Thursday and 8.30am on Friday. Anyone with information should call PC Will Wright at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100.

Trio of prolific burglars jailed

THREE men have been jailed for a series of burglaries in Suffolk and Norfolk.

The 31 burglaries included one at Wickhambrook in January this year and one at Kedington in February, two in Lidgate and one in Gazeley, near Newmarket.

They admitted conspiracy to commit burglaries.

All three are from Norwich and appeared at Norwich Crown Court when they were sentenced.

John Storey, 29, admitted 25 burglaries and asked for seven to be taken into consideration. He was jailed for three and a half years.

Matthew Curtis, 25, admitted 15 offences and was jailed for three years. Richard Woods, 51, admitted 21 offences and was also given a three-year sentence.

The offences happened between June 2009 and February this year.

Detectives from the Norfolk and Suffolk forces carried out a joint investigation into the crimes after two of the men were caught in West Suffolk.

Det Con Jim Starling, from Norwich CID, said: "The three men were prolific burglars in Norfolk and Suffolk, causing much distress and inconvenience to the people they targeted.

"We have been working hard over the past year to catch those responsible and bring them to justice.

"This has been a significant investigation as the three men carried out a great number of crimes.

"This outcome proves that we are determined to target persistent criminals and hope this will act as a deterrent to others and will also provide some comfort to the victims."

Chance to meet African hedgehog

KANGOO jumping, fencing and meeting snakes are just some of the host of new attractions on offer at a leisure centre during the holidays.

Haverhill Leisure Centre will be holding sessions for youngsters in fencing, crazy golf, mountain biking, dance mats and archery alongside popular activities including laser blast and kangoo jumping. The reptile experience allows children to get up close to snakes and lizards, while new fur and feathers sessions give children the chance to see meerkats, an African hedgehog and a chinchilla.

The centre has also introduced activity clubs for different age groups at which youngsters can try out a number of different sports and activities. There will also be a free event where families can try out racket sports.

Sex offenders trial extended

A SCHEME trialled in Cambridgeshire to give parents a right to information about child sex offenders is being extended to Suffolk. Cambridgeshire was one of four counties which took part in a pilot scheme for disclosing information about child sex offenders under the title Keeping Children Safe. The trial scheme started in September 2008, now it is being extended to 20 more counties, including Suffolk, from Monday this week. Under the terms of the scheme, a parent, carer or guardian can ask whether an individual who has access to their child or children has a record of child sexual offences. The timescale for the complete process, from application to finalisation, is expected to be no more than 45 days, but there are no guarantees that disclosures will be made in every case. More details about the scheme are on the Suffolk police website www.suffolk.police.uk

All-weather pitch plan

PLANS to build a new all-weather pitch at a prep school have been received by planners. Col Keith Boulder had applied to St Edmundsbury Borough Council for consent to build an all-weather sports pitch with associated fencing, floodlighting and access path at Barnardiston Hall Preparatory School, near Haverhill.

Sun shines on launch of nursery's garden

PEPPA Pig joined children at a nursery to officially open their new garden in the sunshine.

The garden was created at Dizzy's Day Nursery in Hollands Road, Haverhill, earlier this year with funding from the Early Years Capital Grant Fund.

The nursery has been running from a converted industrial unit on Hollands Road for the last eight years.

It gained planning permission to change the use of a piece of land to the side of its building and with support from Richard Coombes and his team in the Estates department and St Edmundsbury Borough Council, the area was incorporated into the nursery as a free flow garden and play space.

Children and their parents helped nursery practitioners to design the garden, to include a 6ft high wave water feature, a sensory garden, nature area, sand pits, potting shed, play houses, fruit trees and sheltered areas so that the garden can be used in all weathers.

Liz Nunn, nursery owner, said: "All of the children now have free access from indoors to outdoors and experience a range of fun activities and opportunities that encourage their holistic development."

The children loved seeing Peppa Pig who visited on Monday, July 19, along with parents, and stayed to meet them and have photographs taken. Peppa also wished lots of luck to all of the children who are starting school in September.

The nursery currently operates a waiting list for younger children but has some free places available for three and four year olds from September. For information about the nursery and Pre-school availability, telephone (01440) 706246 or email info@dizsysdaynursery.co.uk

Residents object to 60m test mast

PLANS for a 60-metre high mast in the middle of the Suffolk countryside, to see if it would be a suitable site for a wind farm, are recommended for approval, despite strong objections.

BT has applied to St Edmundsbury Borough Council for consent to put up the meteorological mast for a temporary period of three years at Leys Farm, between Stoke by Clare and Clare.

Plans for a wind farm there have already provoked strong opposition, with MPs Matthew Hancock and Tim Yeo both opposing it.

At its meeting due to be held today, the council's development control committee is recommended to approve the mast, with a condition that it is dismantled and the land returned to agriculture at the end of the three-year period.

The application for the mast is to monitor the speed and direction of the wind in the area, to determine its suitability for potential wind farm development.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Clare Parish Council objected to the mast on the basis that insufficient detail was provided about how it would be dismantled after three years.

A number of neighbours objected, fearing that approval of the mast would lead to approval for the wind farm. They also pointed out that turbines would be only 500 yards from homes, when most manufacturers recommended a distance of 500 to 1,500 metres.

They cited poor access to the site, feared it could set a precedent for other sites, would create noise disturbance and could half property values. They felt the mast application should be deferred until more detail of the wind farm plan was provided and said the cost saving of generating electricity would not outweigh the impact on the environment. They felt the height of the mast was unacceptable in an area where the only tall structures were churches and the castle.

One objector said: "The siting of a wind farm on the outskirts of an historic town in rare English countryside is inappropriate and should be sited where less environmental damage will be caused and the farm can be more efficiently run."

The report to the committee stressed that approval for the mast was no guarantee of approval for a wind farm application and that the mast application should be decided on its own merits.

The land was not designated as being a special landscaped area or part of the Stour Valley Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. It was felt the slender mast would have minimal visual impact and be less intrusive than telegraph poles or pylons. Very few concerns had been raised about the mast rather than the wind farm.

80 bands set to rock a village

ORGANISERS of the Fordham Music Festival, now in its seventh year, are hailing this year's line-up as the best ever.

Angie Lee, who organises the event with Mark Autey, said: "This year is a milestone for us."

"We have our best line-up to date which includes 'Bez' formerly of The Happy Mondays but now a star in his own right having recently thrilled and indulged clubbers with the hedonistic delights at the brand new Unfair Ground area of Glastonbury, the daddy of all festivals."

"Other Glastonbury favourites include Dreadzone who will be rocking us with their unique blend of stonking dance beats fused with high energy reggae and dub."

Derek Forbes and Brian McGee, former members of top stadium band Simple Minds, are expected to include some of the band's hits such as Don't You Forget About Me, Alive and Kicking and Love Song with vocals by Owen Paul-McGee, a television and stage actor.

Others in the line-up include 1980's mod band Secret Affair who had a hit with This Is The Time For Action, and ex-Oasis drummer Bonehead will be appearing with his band The Vortex.

The Hamsters will be performing a 'Jimmi Hendrix 40th anniversary set" and Blue Haze will be echoing the sound of Pink Floyd.

The three-day festival, which gets under way tomorrow, features more than 80 diverse bands and more than 100 DJs in the dance tents.

There will also be a Strawberry Fair Stage run as a partial replacement of this year's Cambridge event which was cancelled after police opposition.

This year heralds the biggest and best children's area the festival has ever seen with circus workshops, yoga, doddle parlour and entertainers galore to keep the young occupied.

There'll be a cabaret stage, great food, arts and crafts stalls and the all important bar for older festival goers.

Facilities also include the SF film tent, internet and phone charging facilities.

The festival continues to support the work of Cambridge-based charity Cam-Mind and this year will also be raising awareness for the The Red Balloon Learner Centres for the recovery of bullied children.

Fordham Music Festival is located between Fordham and Burwell close to the East Cambridgeshire and Suffolk border. Buy Tickets online and read more information at www.fordhammusicfest.org

Sign in for races

'WACKY RACES' involving contestants in fancy dress on homemade carts will be held at Linton on Sunday.

Organised by the Crown Inn, the races will start at the pub at 2pm with signing in at 1.30pm and will finish at the recreational ground.

Entertainment will also include a hog roast and various stalls and the day will also incorporate the President's Cricket Knockout Tournament on the recreational ground starting at 3pm.

So far the 'Wacky Races', which are run every two years, have raised more than £15,000 for charities.

This year's event will benefit Cancer Research and The Linton Pavilion Improvement Fund.

Double bill of opera

MADINGLEY Hall near Cambridge will provide the backdrop to a double bill of open-air opera next weekend.

The UK's leading touring company Opera Brava will stage two of Mozart's most popular and powerful operas, The Marriage of Figaro on Friday, August 13, and The Magic Flute on Saturday, August 14. Both performances will begin at 7.30pm.

Tickets for each night are £25 for adults, £10 for children.

Call the box office on 01444 443000.

Westlife sing out series of racecourse concerts

CAPACITY crowds are expected as the series of summer night concerts at Newmarket racecourse comes to a close.

The final two Newmarket Nights will feature two of the most popular acts to have performed at the racecourse – Madness who are on stage after racing tomorrow and Westlife who bring the series of seven shows to a close the following week.

Madness, whose "nutty" sound put them into the charts in the 1980s, have previously played to sell-out crowds at Newmarket and on their most recent appearance, in 2008, record amounts were spent in the bars and restaurants at the July course.

A few tickets remained earlier this week, but they were expected to be sold before Friday.

Westlife's tickets have already sold out. The band, whose Newmarket date is part of their Where We Are tour, brought the Nights series to a close in 2006 in front of a capacity audience.

Their latest single What About Now is still getting regular radio airplay despite peaking at number 2 in the pop charts.

This year's series of Friday evening concerts after race meetings could approach the record total crowd figures of two years ago.

Simply Red have already performed to a capacity audience of more than 20,000 and good crowds were reported at the other shows which featured the X Factor Finalists, Spandau Ballet, Razorlight and, last Friday, James Morrison.

More than 100,000 people attend the series of combined race meetings and pop shows. The cash brought in by the series helps to finance the more "traditional" race meetings at Newmarket as well as helping to introduce thousands of first-time visitors to racing.

The Newmarket Nights are run in association with radio station Heart FM.

Double helping of Shakespeare in the outdoors

THERE are two opportunities to enjoy Shakespeare in the great outdoors over the next week.

The world-renowned Globe Theatre leaves its Bankside home to bring A Midsummer Night's Dream to Cambridge.

Performed on an Elizabethan-inspired stage, a small troupe of travelling players breathes new life into this delightfully anarchic play in the outdoor setting of The Master's Garden in Emmanuel College from Tuesday until Sunday, August 15.

Hermia loves Lysander and Helena loves Demetrius – but Demetrius is supposed to be marrying Hermia. When the Duke of Athens tries to enforce the marriage, the lovers take refuge in the woods outside the city, and walk into the midst of a dispute between the king and queen of the fairies. So, too, does a group of amateur actors rehearsing a play.

The shows start at 7.30pm with matinees on Thursday and Saturday at 2.30pm, Sunday 3pm.

All tickets £15, subjected to a £2 booking fee. Call the box office on (01223) 503333 or visit www.cambridgearts.theatre.com

On Saturday, the critically acclaimed outdoor theatre company The Pantaloons make their debut in the beautiful surroundings of the National Trust's Anglesey Abbey for a night of mayhem, with their hilarious, original and fast-paced production of Much Ado About Nothing.

With a cast of just five actors, this production features audience interaction, contemporary references, slapstick and original live music all nestled comfortably within the verse.

By making the clowns an integral part of the show, The Pantaloons bring a genuinely traditional element back to Shakespeare's work, making it accessible to people of all ages.

The performance starts at 6.30pm and the audience is invited to take a picnic, something to sit on and dress according to the weather.

For ticket details call (01223) 810080. Visit www.thepantaloons.co.uk

The big film

THE A-TEAM (12A, 118 mins)
Action/Comedy/Romance. Liam Neeson, Bradley Cooper, Sharlto Copley, Quinton 'Rampage' Jackson, Patrick Wilson, Jessica Biel, Gerald McRaney. Director: Joe Carnahan.

IT has been more than 25 years since George Peppard chewed on a cigar and uttered the immortal line, "I love it when a plan comes together!"

Joe Carnahan's big screen revamp of The A-Team doesn't quite come together, lacking the low-rent charm of the original.

Indeed, nothing is impossible in this all-guns-blazing adventure for Colonel John 'Hannibal' Smith (Neeson), Lieutenant Templeton 'Face' Peck (Cooper), Captain 'Howlin' Mad' Murdoch (Copley) and Sergeant Bosco 'B.A.' Baracus (Jackson).

Framed for the murder of their good friend, General Morrison (McRaney), the enterprising soldiers break out of military prison and hijack a plane, which is subsequently shot down by military gunships.

The quick-thinking quartet leaps into a tank – handily parked in the hold – just before the plane explodes. They then parachute to terra firma at breakneck speed, shooting down the gunships by using the tank's weapons systems.

Jessica Biel's plucky heroine, newly demoted army Lt Charissa Sosa, isn't kidding when she observes, "They are the best... and they specialise in the ridiculous."

She gives chase along with tenacious CIA agent Lynch (Wilson) and his underlings.

The A-Team is preposterous, asking us to believe that each member of the squad possesses split-second timing to rescue their buddies from almost certain death.

Villains help the cause by delaying executions until the last second, as if they are expecting their plans to be thwarted.

And sure enough, they are. The film reaches a crescendo with an overblown final showdown at the docks aboard a ship laden with cargo containers.

Neeson is miscast in a role that demands far more charisma as the master tactician who vows, "I'd rather face a firing squad than betray you guys."

Thankfully, Cooper is a perfect fit for an incorrigible ladies man, merrily flaunting his washboard abs to pique the interest of wives and girlfriends in the audience.

Copley is often unintelligible as "a functioning lunatic", who paints his face blue and pretends to be Braveheart, riding a hobbyhorse into battle against the English.

KNOWLEDGE QUIZ

Lost letters 25

In each of these puzzles a famous or popular quotation fills the grid. The individual letters remain in their correct column, but have fallen out and are out of order. Reinsert them in the correct order to find the answer. Any punctuation is given in its own square.

This quotation is from the Monty Python team.

Prune wisteria before it runs riot over your home

THERE are few sights more breathtaking than a mature wisteria in full bloom in late spring and early summer, its gorgeous trails of flowers in shades of blue, mauve, pink or white adorning house walls or cascading over pergolas and arches.

Yet so many gardeners struggle to get this gorgeous climber to flower year after year.

So often its refusal to bloom again is down to inadequate pruning. There's still just time to give it a prune this year to stop it running riot and give yourself a better chance that it will come back stronger than ever in years to come.

You have to be patient when planting a wisteria, as it may not flower for three or four years after planting, provided it is planted in soil enriched with large amounts of organic matter, is watered

by Hannah Stephenson

religiously while establishing and is placed in a sunny, sheltered position – a wisteria left in the shade will not flower.

If you leave wisteria plants to their own devices they can run riot, growing into huge plants which don't produce a single flower and only succeed in ripping your drainpipes down and blocking the light from your house.

Pruning should be done in two stages – in summer, after flowering ends, and again in winter. If you have trained a line of main stems out along horizontal wires, by the third year there should be a framework of branches.

Stop the plant running amok by cutting the long tendrils and side shoots to 20cm (8in), or to six buds from the main branches. This will encourage it to build up plenty of short spurs, so creating fewer leaves and more flowers. At the same time, cut the main stems back to restrict the amount of space they take up.

In winter new growth will have sprung up which will need keeping in check.

Cut back the same laterals and side shoots to within two or three buds of the main branches. Always cut 2.5cm (1in) above a bud.

Old neglected plants may be pruned hard and will grow, with new shoots appearing from the base of the plant, but it's likely to be a few years before they'll flower again.

If you haven't too much space, wisteria plants can be grown as standards, effectively into small flowering trees, with spirally stems and masses of flowers.

Choose your wisteria carefully. The popular variety, W. sinensis, is a rampant grower with flowers 23cm (9in) long, but which can get out of hand (it can grow to 18m (60ft) tall) and is not a good choice for a house wall as it frequently gets into gutters and under roofs.

Go for a less invasive W. floribunda, Japanese wisteria, which grows to around 4m (13ft). The variety 'Alba' has white flowers with a lilac tint, or 'Multijuga' produces fragrant, lilac flowers on slender racemes.

Pruning a big wisteria may seem like a thankless task at first, but once you've dusted off the step ladder and got out your secateurs, it may not take as long as you think. And the wealth of flowers you'll enjoy next year will be well worth the effort.

BEST OF THE BUNCH - Dahlia

They are the old faithfuls of late summer, whether grown in formal beds or in mixed borders, to add much needed

Keep in check: prune Wisteria at the correct time to ensure it stays in control and continues to produce masses of blooms.

colour. Dahlias come in all shapes, sizes and colours – you can get dinner plate-sized flowers which can look great cut and placed singly and flat into a shallow bowl of water, or much smaller pom-poms, and everything in-between.

They grow from tubers and aren't totally hardy, so most gardeners lift and store them for the winter.

You'll also need to protect young plants from slugs and snails, which will polish them off quickly if they're allowed.

Dahlias need rich, moist soil and a sunny spot to flower, preferably where they don't have to compete with other bedding plants for root space.

Juke: Aiming for the top

Astra Sports Tourer from £16,575

THE new Astra Sports Tourer will enter the UK market later this year priced at £16,575, more than £500 less than the current entry-level Astra Estate, yet incorporating a long list of additional standard kit.

Built in Britain at Vauxhall's Ellesmere Port plant, the Astra Sports Tourer range starts with the 1.4 (98bhp) ES model, which gains an extra 10PS of power over the equivalent 1.4 Astra Estate. It also adds: air conditioning, curtain airbags, Electronic Stability Control (ESP), Electronic Parking Brake (EPB), an aux-in socket and Active Safety Front Head Restraints, all as standard.

Better still, the Sports Tourer's premium over the 5-door hatch model starts from just £995, for which customers benefit from a larger cargo area (500 versus 470 litres, with rear seats up), despite retaining the same wheelbase as the new hatch.

Diesel pricing is equally aggressive, with the entry-level 106bhp 1.7 CDTi ES Sports Tourer costing less than the outgoing 88bhp 1.3 CDTi Astra Estate Life, yet packing more power and benefiting from sub-120g/km CO2 emissions.

The Sports Tourer range comprises four trim levels: ES, Exclusiv, SE and SRI, but adds a variety of standard and optional equipment, including FlexFold, which allows each section of the 60:40 split-fold rear seatbacks to be lowered at the press of a button housed in the walls of the cargo compartment.

Joining the new Astra range, which has now sold more than 30,000 units in the UK since it was launched at the end of last year, the Sports Tourer is likely to account for around 10 per cent of all sales.

THE VAUXHALL ASTRA SPORTS TOURER: From £16,575.

Bonita boost for Nissan crossover

THE youngest woman ever to climb Everest is backing the British-built Juke. Selected by Nissan to take part in the new Juke launch due to her incredible personal achievements and natural sense of adventure, 22-year-old Bonita Norris displays the qualities respected by Nissan and that typify the new Juke.

Swapping the mountains for an urban location for the Nissan Juke photoshoot, Bonita said: "I'm delighted to back the launch of Nissan Juke because I believe in backing British, and anything that creates jobs and pride for this country has my support."

"Juke defies the stereotypes and breaks the mould. I can relate to that. I'm unconventional and I've got a spirit of adventure that drives me to do different things and this is what Juke represents."

The Juke is launched on September 24.

DELIGHTED: Bonita Norris with the Nissan Juke.

Buying diesel could be a false economy, say used car experts

THE petrol/diesel debate rumbles on this week with the announcement by Used Car Expert magazine that buying a used diesel to save money on running costs is often a false economy.

"With nearly three times as many drivers buying a used car, rather than a new car, it is clear that initial outlay is the key consideration, with running costs the other major factor," claims editor Matt Tumbridge. "Which is why it might surprise you to learn that I am forever telling people to consider petrol engines over diesel."

Yes, says Tumbridge, a diesel will give more mpg over a petrol model. "But the diesel model will often be hugely more expensive to buy. Plus, while they are no more likely to break down than petrols, diesel usually have higher mileages.

"So, think about it, they are more likely to break down because of the distance they've covered, and there's a good chance a garage will then whack you with a bigger repair bill."

Giving examples,

Tumbridge says that a Peugeot 207 diesel more than three years old will, at some point, need its emissions filter replacing. "And this will add £400 to the service bill – so you need to factor that into the purchase price," he adds.

The Vauxhall Corsa 1.3 CDTi will do 10mpg more than the 1.2-litre petrol version, but a three-year-old diesel model will cost £600 more than the petrol, Tumbridge points out. You can do a lot of miles on that money in the 1.2 petrol, he adds.

Seat Ibiza ST priced from £12k

THE SEAT IBIZA ST: From £12,070 up to £14,910.

COINCIDING with its showroom debut in the UK this month, Seat has unveiled full price and specification details of its new Ibiza ST.

The exciting third 'silhouette' in the Seat line-up joins the sporty Ibiza SC and practical Ibiza 5-door to make today's Ibiza range the most extensive in the Spanish supermini's 25-year history.

Another sleek product of the pen of Seat's chief designer, Luc Donckerwolke, the estate version of Seat's biggest seller is, clearly, created to offer more carrying capacity without ruining the sporty style.

Offered from launch with a broad variety of engines, including sporty turbocharged petrols and frugal latest generation turbodiesels, and with the option of a familiar five-speed manual or high-tech seven-speed DSG gearbox, the new Seat is even available to order in super-frugal Ecomotive form, with CO2 emissions confirmed at a road tax-busting 92g/km and an exceptional combined fuel economy figure of 80.7mpg.

The extensive array of modern engines includes a newly EUV-compliant 1.4 and rises to a turbocharged 1.2-litre TSI that's available with manual or 'self-shifter' DSG 'box. Diesel Ibiza ST buyers are offered the choice of a refined 72bhp 1.2-litre TDI CR – also available in the Ecomotive version – or a potent 1.6-litre TDI CR that's good for 102bhp at 4,400rpm.

Performance is fully in keeping with the Spanish brand's sporty ethos and the most dynamic version at launch, the 1.2 TSI with DSG-auto, covers the 0-62mph dash in a spirited 10.1 seconds before charging on, where legal, to a top speed of 118mph.

The new Ibiza ST costs from just £12,070 for the entry-level 1.4-litre 16V S A/C.

Prices rise through engine and equipment levels to a current ceiling of £14,910 for the Ibiza ST 1.2 TDI CR Ecomotive in luxurious SE spec.

Writer - Commercial Features

Cambridge Newspapers Ltd is the area's leading regional newspaper publisher and part of Iliffe News & Media East. Our titles include the award-winning Cambridge News and a wide range of weekly newspapers, regional magazines and websites across Cambridgeshire.

We are seeking a journalist to join our Features and Magazines team as a commercial features writer.

The successful candidate will be responsible for providing commercial features editorial – from company profiles to general editorial to support advertising features – across a range of our award-winning titles.

In addition, the successful candidate will be expected to manage the commercial features workflow from planning to proofing stage, so excellent organisation skills, as well as a flair for writing, are a must. Depending on workload, there may also be an opportunity to contribute more general editorial to the products produced by our Magazines and Features team.

We offer a competitive salary, five weeks' annual holiday, contributory pension scheme, health cash plan and free on-site parking – plus the opportunity to develop within a leading media company.

For an application pack, please contact Paul Kirkley, Cambridge Newspapers, Winship Road, Milton, Cambridge, CB24 6PP or email paul.kirkley@cambridge-news.co.uk

Applications close on Monday, August 16

It is the company policy to welcome applications from any individual regardless of ethnic origin, gender, disability, religious belief, sexual orientation or age. All applications will be considered on merit.

Your CV

When you send your CV off to a potential employer, remember that you won't be the only one. Hundreds of other people could be applying for the job as well.

So what are you going to do to make you stand out from the crowd? Why should an employer take a chance on you instead of someone else?

Your CV is your first real chance to sell yourself to a potential employer. Most employers will scan through a CV in about 30 seconds so you need to grab their attention from the start - and make them want to invite you for an interview.

There are five main areas to consider when writing your CV:

- Make sure your CV looks the part. Your CV should look clean and tidy - don't scrawl it out on a piece of A4 paper. If you haven't got access to a PC or printer, ask a friend or use your local library. Use a good quality paper and steer clear of fancy borders and front covers.
- Watch out for silly spelling and grammar mistakes. They make you look lazy and show employers that you don't really care. It's not difficult to do a spell check on your PC and if you're really stuck then don't just guess, reach for a dictionary. Get a friend to read through your CV for you - a second opinion is always useful.
- Make sure your CV is well organised. When you list your previous jobs, make sure the dates are correct and try not to leave any gaps. If you took time out to go travelling then say so - employers won't mark you down just because you've tried something new.
- Don't waffle. Remember that employers don't have time to read every word of your CV. Long paragraphs and sentences put people off, so try bullet-points to break up text. Make sure your CV is no longer than two pages long - employers don't want your life history, they just want to see that you've got what it takes to do the job.
- Don't list any failures. Employers have enough trouble finding someone who is right for the job - they don't need help finding reasons not to employ you. If you have to include a mistake from your past, make sure you show the employer that you learnt something from the experience.

Keep it simple

Personal details

Start off with your full name, address, date of birth, home and mobile phone numbers, email address and nationality. If you are offered an interview, the employer will want to get hold of you so give him as many options as possible.

Summary/professional profile

This is the No1 area for selling yourself. Set out your main skills and personal qualities but keep it interesting and tight - one paragraph should do to cover everything.

Education and qualifications

List your qualifications and education history, with the most recent first. You don't need to list the grades for each exam you have passed unless they were exceptional results - simply listing the number and type of exams you've passed is fine. Also, list any relevant professional organisations you belong to and training courses you have been on.

Work experience

Start with your most recent position and work backwards, giving addresses along with start and finish dates. Set out your main responsibilities, duties and most importantly achievements, along with any skills you picked up or improvements you made while you were there. This is a really important section in your CV so make it count - but don't waffle.

If you have not had a full-time job before, detail any part-time jobs you may have held or any placement you have been on.

Other skills

Set out any computer skills you may have and the software you are most familiar with. Can you type, do shorthand or speak a foreign language fluently? If you have a driving licence, let the employer know. If it's clean, tell them.

Interests & hobbies

Briefly list what you get up to in your spare time. Put down any positions you hold in clubs or associations, along with any responsibilities and achievements.

References

Make sure you have at least two people (including one from your previous or current job) who will tell an employer what a thoroughly nice person you are and what a potential asset to the company you would be.

If you want to list them now make sure you include their name, job title, postal & e-mail address and contact phone numbers. Alternatively, just put "Available on request" so the employer knows to follow up references at a later date.

Add a covering letter

The main aim of a covering letter is to encourage an employer to give you a chance. You want them to read your CV, so sell it to them. You should always enclose a covering letter when applying for a job - most employers won't consider you unless you do.

A covering letter should let the employer know why you are interested in the job and why you think you can do it.

The hints and tips below should point you in the right direction:

- Keep it simple. A covering letter should be short and to the point - no more than six paragraphs.
- Mention the job. If you are replying to an advert, mention what the job is and where you saw it. The company may be advertising for other positions and it may not be clear which job you are applying for.
- Sell yourself. Explain why you are the perfect candidate for the job. Show off your strengths and experience. Refer to your CV - if it goes missing then at least an employer will know that you've sent it.
- Check it for mistakes. A silly spelling mistake in a covering letter is likely to cost you your chance of getting an interview. Also, make sure it is addressed to the right person in the right department.

A covering letter can be just as important as a CV in getting you an interview. It's your first point of contact with your potential employer - so make it count.

THERE has already been plenty of drama in the 2010 Formula One season, but Gary Paffett is happy to be out of the spotlight, playing a supporting role to title hopefuls Lewis Hamilton and Jenson Button.

As test driver for McLaren, Paffett plays a big role in developing the car and perfecting the set-ups that best suit the driving styles of Hamilton and Button. FIA testing restrictions mean much of the work is done behind the scenes in the simulator, but the Haverhill-based driver's expertise and feedback means he also attends every Grand Prix of the season, a role he balances with his commitments with Mercedes in the German Touring Car Masters (DTM).

"My relationship with both teams goes back a long way," he said.

"I started testing for McLaren in December 2000 and started racing for Mercedes in DTM in 2003.

"They've been flexible with regard to what I have to do, and the championships also fit very well. The DTM is designed around the F1 season and Le Mans so there are no clashes.

"It's ideal for me. It means I'm away 90 per cent of the time, but it's my dream job."

Paffett's role as test driver means he has a relatively low profile, but he enjoyed a rare moment in the F1 spotlight after the British Grand Prix, where he helped McLaren rescue a desperate situation to finish with second and fourth places. The team had planned to introduce a blown diffuser at Silverstone but both drivers were well off the pace during the Friday practice session, so the upgrade was aborted.

The sudden and unexpected turnaround meant McLaren had their work cut out to avoid a poor result.

Paffett flew back to the team's base in Woking by helicopter and spent hours in the simulator, fine-tuning the set-ups of both cars before Saturday's qualifying sessions.

It was intense work but it paid off and, unusually, his efforts on this occasion were well-documented.

"We had to re-do all the race preparation," said Paffett. "It was pretty intense and the pressure was on because it had to be done quickly. It worked pretty well, and second and fourth was a fantastic result for us. It was great for me as well. The stuff I did for Silverstone was a lot more public. It was a lot more obvious what I had done and everyone could see the result, so it was a really good feeling."

Paffett may be 29, but he remains hopeful of securing a competitive drive in F1 and, despite his success in DTM – a championship he won in 2005 – that remains his ultimate goal.

"It's still a dream of mine to race in F1," he said. "Racing in DTM is fantastic, but my management team and I are still pushing for F1."

"A drive at McLaren would be perfect, but they have two very good drivers at the moment. If a drive became available at another team I would have to have a serious look at it."

For the time being though, Paffett's thoughts are firmly fixed on this season. McLaren failed to match the pace of the Red Bulls and Ferraris in both Germany and Hungary, but Paffett believes McLaren will catch them in the closing stages of the season.

"We got a good result for the team (in Germany) and we're still looking good in both drivers' and constructors' championships. I'm quite confident the next few races will be good for us," he said.

And, on Sunday, Paffett resumes his DTM challenge at the Nurburgring.

"There's only a 13-point gap (to leader Bruno Spengler)," he said. "We've had just four races so far and there are seven left, so there's everything to play for."

Keeping Hamilton and Button right on track is just a Paffett job. . .

On top of the podium: The fortunes of Jenson Button and Lewis Hamilton owe much to McLaren test driver Gary Paffett's input.

HAVERHILL are edging closer to the Adams Harrison Midweek League Division One title.

They beat Weston Colville in a rain-reduced match and had two games this week to cement their first title since 1972.

Robbie Ketteridge kept his nerve to guide them home at 107 for 4 chasing Weston's 106 for 4.

Individual honours of the week went to Brockley's Joe Reed, whose unbeaten 112 helped them pass doomed Horseheath's 146 for 7, which was built on 90 from Martyn Farrant.

Reed's ton guided Brockley to 152 for 7 and a vital win as two teams will go down if the division has to revert to six teams.

Abington maintained their unbeaten record in Division Two, seeing off Manor in the 12th over.

Robbie puts title bubbly on ice

>> Cricket: Adams Harrison Midweek League

Set a target of 97, Abington stormed to 100 for 2 on the back of a blundering unbeaten 42 from Simon Bishop.

Hundon racked up the runs, battering 204 for 5 off the Mill Green attack before restricting their visitors to 102.

Yeldham celebrated promotion from Division 3A by beating Haverhill II. Mark Roberts scored an unbeaten 37 in Yeldham's 114 for 5 with Haverhill getting no closer than 97 for 6.

In a dramatic finish at Highpoint, the home side only just failed to catch Gestingthorpe's 89 for 7, running out of overs at 87 for 7.

The pecking order in Division 3B was finally established with champions Helions Bumpstead lifting the title despite being beaten by Babraham II, who got their first win after scoring 83 for 5 chasing 90.

And Abington pipped Balsham to second place after a four-wicket win, Balsham posting 80 for 6 with Abington taking the spoils at 81 for 6.

Four to the fore: Captain's Day winners Richard Boyles, Nigel Taylor, Denise Walker and Ted Fairhead.

Dennis tops in seniors

VICE-PRESIDENT Dennis Harkness just pipped defending champion Eamonn Bareham in a thrilling conclusion to the Seniors Club Championship at Haverhill. Harkness carded 74-6-68 to edge Bareham, who handed in 75-6-69, by one shot.

Gerry Scott was third with 79-7-72 while Bob Campbell won the handicap section with an impressive 85-20-65, from Frank Robertson (85-18-67) and John Stokes (83-16-67).

The Veteran's Cup for the over-70s was won by John Condon (89-23-66) on countback from George Lawrence (86-20-66).

>> An eagle on the 15th helped Denise Walker win the women's section at the Captain's Day competition, a stableford format event off 1/4th handicap.

It helped her to score 40 points, the same as men's low division winner Ted Fairhead. All the funds raised from the day – which attracted 110 competitors from the men's ladies' and junior sections – went to captain David Chapman's chosen charity, Action for Children. Details – Men's low division: 1 Ted Fairhead 40pts, 2 Peter Driscoll 39pts on countback from 3 Gordon Price 39. High division: 1 Nigel Taylor 42pts, 2 Dave Nicholas 39pts, 3 Andy Gill 37pts. Ladies' section: 1 Denise Walker 40pts, 2 Lyn Fish 33pts, 3 Sally Price 32pts.

Junior section: 1 Richard Boyles 38pts, 2 Ellis Brown 35pts, 3 Charlie Sigler 34pts.

Nearest the pin – men's low division Matthew Robinson (on 16th), high division Richard Peck (2nd). Ladies: Karen Wilby (8th).

>> Haverhill Ladies' captain Sally Price and playing partner Judy Farren just came out top in the ladies' section's second 'major' of the year, The Shrubberies.

They won the pairs, four-ball better ball event on countback from Lyn Fish and

Champion: Dennis Harkness

Sheila Price after both pairs scored 46 points. Catie Heathfield and Ann Thompson were third with 41.

>> Stephen Boyles was the runaway winner of the junior section's Waddup Windows Medal event, winning by five shots to trim two shots off his handicap.

Details – 1 Stephen Boyles 84-21-63, 2 Chris Vince 72-4-68, 3 James Higham 96-27-69.

>> Mel Stuart took top spot in the July IFF Challenge with a nett 65.

Details – Division One: 1 Mel Stuart 72-7-65, 2 Peter Garner 79-12-67, 3 Peter McLennan 81-12-69. Division Two: 1 Dave Cohen 79-13-66, 2 Lyndon Brown 84-16-68, 3 Mark Carpenter 87-18-69. Division Three: 1 Ken Johnson 93-27-66, 2 Bob Spittle 93-25-68, 3 Roger Hartley 99-27-72.

>> The club's seniors have had mixed results in their interclub matches, losing 6-2 at The Suffolk but beating Royston 4½-3½ and Stowmarket 5-3 at home.

>> Cricket

AFTER waiting until the second week of July for their first Hunts County Bats Suffolk League win of the season, Haverhill have finally found their feet. They recorded their fourth successive win on Sunday, polishing off Acton by five wickets at the Manor with nine overs to spare.

It looked as if things would turn out differently when Acton sprinted from 17 for 1 off eight overs to 55 for 1 from 11. But skipper Joe Woodley (4 for 29) applied the brakes and with Dean Sharpe (2 for 46), Anthony Phillips (2 for 29), and Russell Davis (1 for 31) chipping in, Acton lurched to 168 all out.

Haverhill's strong batting line-up suffered an early jolt with the early loss of Steve Fox, but Adam Dellar and

Youngs guns down Acton for another win

Luke Youngs built a second-wicket stand of 48, based on sharp singles and quickly-run threes. When Dellar went for 33, Youngs (68 not out) found a willing ally in Davis, whose beligerent approach yielded a brisk 42 and took Haverhill to 169 for 5. However, the second team's season veers from the sublime to the ridiculous. Having walloped Woolpit the previous week, they were crushed at Horringer in Division Four.

The die was cast when Ben Wilkins was unluckily run out when the bowler deflected Sam Hartshorn's drive on to his stumps.

Hartshorn went on to make 22 but the rest of the innings fell apart on a slow, spongy surface, and only a lively partnership between David Saville (8 not out) and Steve Levitt (11) lifted the score to a miserable 74.

Spinner Paul Spurling took two wickets but Horringer knocked off the winning runs in the 16th over.

The club's Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship sides were left redundant by Saturday's wet weather.

Betts aims for home comfort

PETER Betts hopes his Haverhill Rovers side can mark the start of a new era by getting their Premier Division campaign off to a winning start at the New Croft on Saturday.

Rovers entertain Walsham-le-Willows – ironically their final league opponents at Hamlet Croft – with the official opening ceremony at the new ground due to take place just before kick-off.

"It should be a really big occasion," said Betts. "Everyone is excited about the new ground. The players really love the facilities and the pitch."

"We should be able to get the best out of them there and we're really hoping more people from the town will come along and support the team."

Betts has retained all last season's squad while adding Greg Strong, from Saffron Walden (below), Joe Boreham, Jack Higgs and brothers Liam and Craig Cutts.

A delay in getting the new pitch ready meant Rovers had to cancel some of their earlier pre-season fixtures but Betts believes his team are now ready for Saturday's game despite defeats in their last two friendlies – 2-0 to Needham Market on Tuesday and 1-0 against league new boys CUP at the weekend.

"We're just about ready," he said. "We've got a difficult start against Walsham, so we need to concentrate."

"Our main aim this season is first of all to stay up, and then see if we can get a top-10 finish."

>> To celebrate the opening of their new ground, Haverhill are offering a 75 per cent discount on training sessions for youngsters later this month.

Sessions will take place on the pitch at New Croft and will run from 9am to 12pm for five to eight-year-olds and from 1pm to 4pm for nine to 16-year-olds.

The sessions will take place from Monday to Friday, starting from August 16 and again from August 23. The discounted price means each week's sessions will cost £10. For more details contact Peter Betts on 07947214105.

>> Rovers are at home to Whitlessey United in the preliminary round of the Cambs Invitation Cup on October 12.

Juniors' agony

HAVERHILL juniors lost the Suffolk Junior Handicap Cup against Thorpe Ness in a sudden-death play-off at Stowmarket. The sides finished level at 3-3 forcing the skippers into the play-off. However, Chris Vince dropped a shot at the third hole to give his Thorpe Ness rival a lead he never relinquished. Haverhill team: Liam Merritt, Vince (captain), Stephen Boyles, Lewis Whiting, Richard Boyles and Ellis Brown.
